Foundation News and Annual Report

Giving Back to Our School Steven Loretero, Foundation President

Thirty years ago in our nation's bicentennial year, Kalāheo High School held its first commencement for 205 graduates. Since then, over 7000 seniors have achieved Kalāheo alumni status. Many have left Hawaii to pursue education and careers on the mainland and around the world.

Our alumni are doctors, lawyers, scientists, technicians, athletes, business owners, laborers, community leaders, and educators (including a few now at Kalāheo). They serve in every branch of the military, both at home and abroad. Many Kalāheo alumni are proud parents of second generation Mustangs.

In fact, most of this newsletter is about our alumni. As a 1983 Kalāheo graduate, I want other alumni to share my convictions about giving back to the school which guided us toward productive, successful futures.

Consider this scenario: If only 50% of Kalāheo's alumni joined the Foundation with at least a $25 annual donation, our endowment would increase by over $87,000 each year, soon creating a sizeable permanent source of funds.

Teachers and school programs always have needs for which the DOE does not provide. For example, this school year, Kalāheo will initiate the first of several Smaller Learning Communities by establishing ninth grade houses to address the specific academic, social and emotional needs of this age group.

Foundation grants—as well as alumni advisory board members, career speakers, and mentors—can support these communities of students and teachers. By giving our time, energy and money, we can help Kalāheo's kids achieve and excel.

If you need other reasons to give, consider honoring teachers, parents, siblings or friends. Or, donate memorial gifts for classmates who passed away much too soon. As always, I thank our current members for their generous support.

Many years may separate us from our days at Kalāheo, but let's always remember the words of our alma mater: "Though we leave for distant places, our hearts with you remain."

Mahalo nui!

Kalāheo Community Gathers at Alumni-Sponsored Luau

On Sunday evening, May 28, the Kalāheo Alumni and Community Luau brought together 75 alumni, faculty, staff, retirees and friends for a traditional luau feast prepared by caterer Williard Holck (76). Joe Kamalamalama/Guy Benson and Friends provided the music and the verdict was, "Hey, these guys are really good!" (Joe, a Kailua High graduate, attended Kalaheo Hillside Intermediate in the late 1960s before the high school conversion.)

There was great food, "talk story" socializing, and a short program as board members spoke briefly of Foundation projects and school needs. Special recognition was given to the The Ress Family, dubbed "Kalāheo's First Family." (See photos, page 6.)

Longtime supporters of the school since their years as Kalāheo parents, Bob and Paula Ress are still graffiti-busting the Mokapu wall. Paula has a long tenure on the Foundation board. The marquee that once stood between the auto shop and the highway was known as "Paula's Sign" because she fought so hard to get it erected despite environmental studies and other impediments. (The marquee was recently felled by the ravages of time.)

Last year, their airline pilot son Alex Ress (90) was elected Foundation vice president and immediately launched alumni/foundation T-shirt sales. (See ad, page 12.) Doctor-daughter Marisa Ress Nguyen (88)—along with her family—has come home, and we know she'll find ways to support the school.

Librarian Martha Robertson recalls: "Years after Alex and Marisa had officially departed the premises, I drove onto campus one weekend morning and saw Bob, Paula and Alex planting a bed of orange-flowering plants around the school's Iliaina Street sign. Now, that's what I call being true to your school!"

The second annual luau is scheduled for Sunday, May 6, 2007. Mark your calendar now!

Alex Ress, Foundation VP, sells the first Kalāheo Alumni T-shirt to Tori McClaran Toles(76).

Alumni Updates

Curtiss Briggs (76) now lives in Temecula, CA, but this Kailua kid's fond memories of Andy's Drive-Inn on Oneawa Street led to the publication of his adapted Andy's Mac Salad recipe in the Honolulu Star-Bulletin last September. (See recipe, page 11.)

Michelle Herras (76) married Kalaheo classmate Ricky Mattos (76) in 2002. They live in Marysville and San Jose, CA. Ricky is a TV director for the California State Assembly.

George Wong (77), in Baghdad since August 2005, is Chief of Fire Operations running five fire stations with over 70 personnel. For the 27-year veteran firefighter, "action in Iraq" includes responding to structural and helicopter fires, car bombings, EMS such as gunshot wounds, vehicles accidents and other emergencies.

Paul Schrader (78), a federal firefighter, died in November 2005 at Castle Medical Center in Kailua.

Sheridan McCaffree (79) resides in Oklahoma and is executive director of the Board of Regents of Oklahoma Colleges. She has fond memories of her days in Dr. Schlosser's yearbook and English classes and says, "I still have my copy of One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

Pediatrics. A self-described late-bloomer, she's married with two children—Mariko, 3, and Michael, 16 months.

Corey Voss (83) was killed on June 12 when a Roberts Hawai'i tour bus slammed into his SUV as he was driving home after surfing.

1990s

Francie Luana Whitfield (90) is a reservist in the military, music store retailer, Denny's server and single parent who enjoys learning about Web designing and photography. Francie relates news of classmate and life long Kailua resident Noah Nugent (90) who suffered severe burns last year in a boat explosion off Portlock. The Hawaiian Sailing Canoe Association has announced a "Friends of Noah Nugent" fund—details at www.hsca.biz.

Peter Miller (91), a pilot for Hawai'i Air Ambulance, was killed along with two colleagues when their plane crashed on Maui in March.

Mark Slaton (92), Air Force Major flying F-15Es at Seymour Johnson AFB, NC, is married to the former Traci Thoman of Hyde Park, NY. They have three children—ages 4, 2 and 1—with another due in February.

Myah Moore (99) earned her Master's from Columbia University and still lives in New York City.

Alumni Participate in “I Love Kailua” Town Party 2006

The 14th annual “I Love Kailua” Town Party was a little unusual because, for the first time, the Kalāheo High School Foundation and Alumni Association set up a booth to promote its cause.

Compared with that other Kailua high school, our booth was modest, but alumni Wade Nakashima, Steven Loretero, Alex Ress and Vanessa Yaeger shared the duties, chatting with friends, alumni and other passers-by.

A fundraiser for the Lani-Kailua Outdoor Circle on the last Sunday in April, this festive event was the perfect place to experience Kailua, enjoy great food, listen to live music, and meet old friends, including those long-lost high school classmates.

Nicely shaded by the trees down the middle of the road, food and plant vendors, craft folks, organizations and thousands of people took to the main street in front of Longs Drug, Macy’s and beyond.

If all this sounds like a good time, the Foundation can use your help next year. Now, if we can just find some alums to carry our banner in Kailua’s ever-popular Fourth of July Parade!

To volunteer for either event, e-mail Steven Loretero at sloretero@kalaheofoundation.org.

Christine Snyder Memorial Plaque Dedication Set for September 11, 2006

On Monday, September 11, 2006, the Alumni Association will dedicate a memorial stone and plaque for Christine Snyder, the Kalāheo graduate aboard United Airlines Flight #93 which crashed in Pennsylvania almost five years ago.

The memorial will be placed alongside the golden shower tree planted in 2002 honoring Christine, a 1983 alumna and arborist with the Outdoor Circle. The tree thrives on the Kalaheo campus in front of A-Building.

Board member Wade Nakashima has coordinated this entire project. The stone and plaque are being donated by Ameron Hawai’i and retired Ameron employee Bob Bater. (Bob’s son is a junior at Kalāheo.)

Alumni and others are invited to attend this event, Please call the school for details—254-7900.

SEPTEMBER

The Welcome Back Assembly kicks off the new school year. Open House brings hundreds of parents to campus for brief informational class sessions with teachers. College 101 Night and Senior Night help parents and students plan for the future. The mandated School Community Council begins work on the Kalāheo Academic and Financial Plan for School Year 2006-2007. For the second year, the Joint Venture Educational Fund underwrites Challenge Day, a program to help students focus on interpersonal relationships and improve the school's overall social atmosphere. "Switchin' Da Mix" is this year's Student Government theme as student leaders focus on developing new and "switching up" older traditions.

OCTOBER

With a "Bringing It Home" theme, Homecoming Week includes an assembly, lunch activities, spirit dinner, football game against the Waialua Bulldogs, and homecoming dance. On National "Make-A-Difference Day" parents, students and staff work on campus improvements. The Kaulana Chapter of the National Honor Society sponsors the first of two annual Blood Bank of Hawai'i Blood Drives in the library. Kalāheo fully implements MealTime, a computerized system for purchasing school meals.

NOVEMBER

Treetops Restaurant at Paradise Park in Mānoa is the scene of the annual Senior Luau. The Junior Varsity Football team makes it to the OIA playoffs and is declared co-champs of the White Division. The Men's Volleyball team captures the OIA Title for the second year. The Kalāheo community discusses the Academic and Financial plan at a PTSA/Community meeting. Planning for Project Grad is in full gear with car washes, HI 5 recycling and other fundraisers.

DECEMBER

The History Fair and Breakfast Potluck features displays, mini-theater, documentaries and other presentations sponsored by the Ninth Grade Transition Team and the Social Studies Department. Student leaders attend the State Student Conference. Rising Starz Assembly recognizes talented student performers. Associated Students of Kalāheo (ASK) sponsor Winter Spirit Week. Cadets attend the annual ROTC Winter Ball is at the Convention Center for an island wide celebration. NJROTC Special Operations return to Schofield Barracks to defend their Adventure Training Test Championship and return with three first place and one second place trophy.

JANUARY

Senior Financial Aid Information Night is attended by interested students and parents. Semester exams assess students' learning. "Dancing in the Streets" is the theme of ASK's New Year's Dance in the cafeteria featuring clever decorations using a cityscape and lights. DECA collects 600 pounds of canned goods and other food items for the Hawai'i Food Bank. Continuing their Project Grad fund raising, parent organizers sponsor a raffle ticket drawing for six Chevron gas cards, each worth $500.

FEBRUARY

The Women's Softball Team earns the 2006 OIA Division II Championship. Entrepreneurs in the Probability and Statistics class organize student-run businesses to create a financial plan and start up a profitable business: Phatty Plate Lunches, Mista Freeze, Billy Wonka, Kalaheo Wear, Asian Express, Chix of '06 and K.B.H. The new Kalāheo Fan Club initiates fund raising to purchase and install ceiling fans in all classrooms.

MARCH

Throughout the month, sophomores complete mandatory Hawai'i State Assessment testing. Junior Varsity Boys, Girls, and Mixed Canoe Paddling Teams take first place in the OIA Championships. Through social studies classes, ASK conduction elections for school year 2006-07.

APRIL

ASK plans a Spring Spirit Week and a Spring Leadership Camp. The entire student body and faculty/staff participate in a mandatory off-campus evacuation to Kawai Nui Neighborhood Park, a walking distance of .55 miles; an evaluating official comments, "It was the best evacuation I've seen." To fund student scholarships and the Kalāheo Fan Club, the PTSA holds its successful annual Silent Auction and Wine-Tasting is at Luana Hills Country Club. Project Grad continues its fund raising efforts with Koala Moa Chicken Sale and Holiday Travel Giveaway.

MAY

It was a "Midsummer's Night Dream" at the Hyatt Regency, venue for the Junior/Senior Prom. The success of the Multicultural Assembly ensures it will be an annual event where students and faculty display multi-talents, highlighting songs and dances from many cultures. Teacher Appreciation Week celebrates our faculty with breakfasts, luncheons, snacks and expressions of appreciation. The annual NJROTC Banquet, Anatomy Night and Academic Awards Ceremony involve students, faculty and families in recognizing students' learning and other achievements. Other end-of-the year events include a Farewell Assembly, Aloha Dance, Shakespeare Festival and ASK Leadership Banquet. On May 28th, the Kalāheo High School Foundation and Alumni Association's Community Luau draws approximately 75 loyal Mustangs to the gym. Seven athletes place in various events at the Windward Area Special Olympics at Kaiser High School.

Faculty Updates

Sharon Ehrhorn, a 37-year veteran of the Kalāheo social studies department, retired in June 2006. During those years, Ehrhorn taught thousands of Kalāheo students in Economics, American Problems, Global Studies, and Advanced Placement European History. But, she says, "Street Law was probably my favorite course; a team of students entered and won the State Mock Trial competition."

Several of her former students have also become teachers, including Toni Childers who taught at Kalāheo and Vanessa Yaeger Souki, currently on the faculty. Ehrhorn has fond memories of participating in graduations at the Waikīkī Shell with colleague Ellen Libby.

Even though she is now on endless "summer vacation," Ehrhorn recently said, "With the current crazy world situation, I will almost miss not being in the classroom to give background and points of view. I'm still clipping news articles and thinking about bulletin boards."

Beth Fincke will officially retire in a few months. She left Kalāheo in June 2005 intending to retire but took a position in a State DOE office. Fincke started her Kalāheo career 39 years ago in 1967 at Kalāheo Hillside Intermediate and was on leave during the 1973-74 and 1984-85 school years. A teacher with many talents, Fincke taught various levels of intermediate and secondary Spanish, Geography, Hawaiian History, Pre-Algebra, German, Drama, Theatre History, American Problems, Global Studies, U.S. History, Advanced Placement U.S. History, and News writing, including producing the student newspaper.

Additionally, she and colleague Barry Mumper taught Electronic Media, helping students produce closed-circuit "Kalāheo Morning News" broadcasts shown at the start of each school day. With colleague John Connelly, she taught U.S. History and American Problems/Global Studies in the Communications Academy.

Beyond the classroom, Fincke advised the German Club, Pacific and Asian Affairs Council, Student Government, Kalāheo Theatre Society, International Thespian Society Kalāheo Chapter, and the classes of 1982 and 1994.

Fincke was involved in one way or another with many graduation ceremonies, including the one and only on-campus commencement when the Class of 1994 graduated in the gym.

For many years, she was also a lunch server in the Kalāheo Cafeteria, answering the call for adult help to speed students through the lines.

Both Ehrhorn and Fincke served on the Kalāheo Foundation board in the organization's early years.

Other recently retired Kalāheo teachers are Barry Mumper, Sharon Shiraki, Andrea Kitaoka, Pat Middleworth and Gary Hirata. Phil Chase, former Kalāheo librarian, retired this year from Kahuku Elementary.

Castle Foundation generously donates four brand new Mirage canoes and a three-pronged canoe trailer for the Kalāheo Canoe Club; paddlers performed 100 hours of community service for each canoe. The canoes are blessed and named Kalāheo, Malama, Kilakila and Kalioholokai. The annual Commencement Ceremony takes place at the Blaisdell Arena on Friday, June 2, at 7:00 pm, immediately followed by Project Grad activities at Schofield Barracks.

SUMMER

No summer school is offered due to a short vacation dictated by the new school year calendar. Instead, students recover credits through supervised online PLATO courses held in the Kalāheo Library and other on-campus locations. School year 2006-2007 commences on July 25 and includes a one-week break in October, three weeks at Christmas, and two in the spring.
